With the American Army in France, May 31.—A Russian prisoner who recently returned from Germany has made a statement at Moscow to the effect that he saw American prisoners at Tüchel, West of Prussia, and that they asked him to let it be known that they were being treated brutally. AMERICANS NOW ON MARNE FRONT

With the French Army in France, June 1.—(Associated Press Cable)—American troops are reaching useful positions in the battle area....

These troops display the most ardent desire to share in the present great battle with their European comrades.

PARIS, JUNE 1.—(Associated Press Cable)—The German attack continued during the night with redoubled violence on the western side of the new salient between Soissons and Chateau Thierry. The French made counter attacks and drove back the forces of German troops in the region of Soissons and on the line of the Chaudun-Vierzy, gaining ground everywhere and taking several hundred prisoners, the war office announces.

Along the north bank of the Marne river the Germans pushed forward advance parties from the north and east borders of Chateau Thierry as far as Verneuil. On the French right there was sharp fighting on the road between Dormans and Rheims. The situation is unchanged northwest and north of Rheims.

GERMAN HORDES MAKING SLOW PROGRESS

Having reached the Marne the Crown Prince is now striking westward with all the force of the great armies at his command with the apparent purpose of forcing the elimination of the Montdidier salient and ultimately pushing in below Amiens to cut off Paris from the north.

So far according to the French official reports, his progress has been small despite most desperate efforts. On the important front between Soissons and Chateau-Thierry on the Marne the French have been counter attacking and at points the enemy has not only failed to advance but have been forced to give ground.

This was notably the case immediately to the south of Soissons where the enemy was thrown back upon the Cise river. Further south the Germans have taken the village of Chaudun. The French drove in and recaptured the place which they now hold. Ground also was won from the Germans just below and near Vierzy.

Still further south the German advance has progressed somewhat further from the main road to a total of something like four miles. Paris reports, however, that new German attacks here in the region of Thouy and Neuilly were broken up, the French maintaining their lines to the east of these towns.

The Germans seemingly have made no attempt to cross the Marne, and they have not yet taken the important railway junction at Chateau Thierry. Elements of their advance however have spread out slightly further eastward along the north bank of the river and now occupy this bank for some 12 miles.

Rheims is still in allied hands and in general there seems to have been but little change along the easterly side of the new German salient.

No mention is made in the day's report of further fighting northwest of Soissons.

Quiet prevails on the British front except for artillery fire. London newspapers reflect anxiety over the military situation as developed by the new offensive.

reached their present objective—the Marne—and they probably will now dig in and prepare for a later drive, perhaps on Paris.

With the Germans within 45 miles of Paris the situation the senators were told, is serious. Military experts here are a unit in realizing the dangers confronting the allies.

The senators were told the rapidity of the German advance since their offensive was begun last Monday was unexpected by all allied military experts.

Twenty German divisions, it was said, were thrown against seven of the allies. Success of the enemy was ascribed by the war council largely to improved use of gas shells.

Present enemy successes and prospective renewal of the offensive, the senators were informed, emphasizes the necessity for urgent transportation of American forces abroad.

GERMANS FAIL TO CROSS THE MARNE

(Associated Press Cable)
With the French Army in France, June 1.—Attempts of the Germans to cross the river Marne have met with vigorous resistance and failed. The troops which made the effort retired from the river bank.

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)
Washington, June 1.—In line with the increase in passenger fares to three cents a mile the Pullman company shortly will raise the minimum over night rate for berth from $1.50 to $2.00. Other Pullman rates will not be changed materially.

The railroad administration is considering establishing universal mileage books good for all parts of the country.

Soldier's Baby Taken

To Columbus Hospital.
Miss Mary Robinson, Secretary of the Home Service Department, took to Columbus on Thursday the baby son of Ray Smith of the U. S. Machine Gun Battalion, recently leaving camp Sherman and placed the boy in the Children's Hospital under the care of Dr. Jackson Moore, expert child specialist.

The Children's Home and Service department are co-operating in giving the child the hospital care necessary if the baby's life is to be saved. Coffee and Chocolate

For American Soldiers
The latest feat of the American Red Cross workers in France is going into the first line trenches, serving coffee and chocolate to the American soldiers about to leave for their patrol in No Man's Land and greeting the boys upon their return with fresh supplies of coffee and chocolate, with cigarettes and dry socks.

A cold, rainy night recently was marked by activity of the Red Cross men. The soldiers had massed at 5:30 p. m., and would have had nothing to eat until 6 o'clock the

The Best Doll For The Red Cross
These are times pregnant with human interest stories and the men who have been active in the War Chest Drive or the women in the Red Cross, could tell many an incident sometimes pathetic, sometimes humorous.

A touching little story is told in connection with the War Chest drive in Wayne township.

Little Emily Rowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rowe, of near Plano, and grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Vincent, of this city, decided to give her best doll to the War Chest. As this was a very handsome new doll and the little girl had a number of others—all in good condition—an effort was made to persuade her to give one of the others. The child was firm—only her best doll was good enough for the War Chest.

MUST SAVE WHEAT UNTIL HARVEST

Reports have been circulated that Food Administration officials state further wheat conservation is not necessary. No statement of the character has ever been issued. The actual position is that our supplies until harvest allow home consumption of approximately one-third normal if we are to maintain allied supplies. The actual position is that in farmers' hands and storage we had at the beginning of May 75,000,000 bushels of wheat to carry us for approximately three months or with an early harvest perhaps two weeks shorter. Our normal consumption for three months would be one hundred twenty-seven million bushels, not allowing allies anything.

WOMAN SCIENTIST

DR. RHODA ERDMAN

Experiments with virulent diseases led to the arrest and internment recently by Federal authorities, of Professor Rhoda Erdman, lecturer on biology at Yale College. She is a Ph.D. of the University of Munich. At her examination, before the Special Assistant to the Attorney-General, she denied vigorously that her work in any way was connected with persistent epidemics of meningitis in cantonments last year. The university authorities learned several weeks ago that she was possessed of a virus so deadly that its existence was a terrifying menace. She was ordered to destroy a vial of fluid which, the Federal authorities say, contained bacteria sufficient to kill a million men.

GETS ACQUAINTED WITH OLD ENEMY

When James Howey, who had been begging for something to eat, faced Mayor V. J. Dahl, Saturday morning, and was asked why he was not at work he bluntly informed His Honor that "me and work have fallen out."

"Very well," replied the mayor, "I'll get you on good terms with work again," whereupon he sentenced him to the workhouse and he was taken to that institution without delay, along with John McCoy, another man who had been arrested for endeavoring to bum something to eat.

"Every bum that strikes town is going to land in the works in short order," declared Mayor Dahl, who announced that he was tired of dilly-dallying with the bums and loafers.

TEXAS "THERE" WITH THE MILITARY CAMPS

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Austin, Texas, June 1.—The training of hundreds of thousands of men for military service in great cantonments, camps and schools of instruction within its borders places Texas among the foremost states of the union in military activity since the United States entered the war. There are approximately 40 camps and schools of military instruction in the state.

Educational institutions of Texas are contributing their share in military activities. The University of Texas is one of the six institutions in the United States selected by the government as a training school in military aeronautics. A reserve officer's training corps also has been established at the university and courses in naval architecture are being taught. In addition, a school of automobile and radio mechanics with a capacity of approximately 3,000 students is being conducted under government supervision.

Texas has approximately 80,000 men in military service. Thirty-five thousand of these are volunteers and 45,000 have been drafted. Of the total approximately 76,000 are in the army, 2,500 in the navy and 1,500 are marines.

Upwards of 2,500 Texans have been commissioned in the army. Practically 100,000 Texans in the selective service are waiting to be called to training camps.

AMERICAN ADDRESSES A MIXED AUDIENCE

(Associated Press Correspondence)
Rome, May 25.—"Get together, break away from the yoke of the Hapsburgs, establish your great Yougo-Slav confederation and we will be glad to welcome you not only as sister but we will play fairy godmother who runs to your rescue," said Captain Pierrello H. Laguardia of the American Flying Corps, addressing a Congress of Bohemians, Rumanians, Serbians and other Slavs.

Captain Laguardia, on his way to the Italian front, remained in Rome just long enough to address the assembly. He surprised the delegates by speaking in the Serbian language.

In the presence of Italian senators, deputies and diplomats, assembled with the all-Slav delegates to decide upon common action with Italy against Austria, Captain Laguardia said that the American people were unfamiliar with the intricate politics of the Balkan states which were so complicated he added, that only a few natives understand them thoroughly themselves.

"Make it simple," he went on. "All unite into one big people, one powerful nation, that is the sort of politics we understand and that is the way we want to help you. We will provide for you, help you until you are strong enough to look after yourselves. I am sending your resolutions to the House of Representatives and they will be read by millions of Slavs in America living as free citizens in a free country."

JOHN WHITE HOME DESTROYED TODAY

The John White residence on the White pike, near Plano, was entirely wiped out by fire at noon, Saturday, when fire started from a spark in the smokehouse and quickly spread to the seven-room frame residence, which has long been one of the landmarks of that vicinity.

It was then too late to remove all household effect, and some of the household furnishings went up in smoke with the residence.

Keep the Faith With Russia

While the utter helplessness of the massive Russian giant, a condition produced almost wholly by the ignorance of the Russian masses, is calculated to arouse a feeling of disgust and to encourage a lack of interest in the future of that great land and the honest and guileless millions who were so long under the heel of autocracy, yet we must not be unmindful of our higher duty, we must not lack in forgiveness, we must not lose our friendship for the Russian people, especially when it is to our own best interest during the present struggle not to do so.

In our pardonable impatience with the Russian people that, in their ignorance they should again bear their necks and submit to have fastened on themselves again the yoke of autocracy, we must remember that Russia alienated and driven over to the Germans would wreck the hopes of freemen throughout the world.

We must make friends with the Russian people—we must keep the faith even though our patience is taxed.

To permit Russia to be conquered by any one of the allied nations would be to drive the nearly two hundred millions of people and the fabulous riches of the great country permanently into the possession of the Germans.

We must bear with Russia until she finds herself. Even Japan recognizes the futility of undertaking to conquer Russia now.

Russia has been under the lash for centuries and she will not be driven any further. Russia cannot be made a friend by resort to the sword and Germany will realize her miscalculation when she undertakes to force Russia into the armies of the Kaiser.

Courage

We must have courage and determination in these days when the Hun hordes are pushing forward in an, apparently, irresistible flood.

Civilization has passed through these dark periods before, and right and justice and freedom have always emerged triumphant. The civil war brought its Bull Run; the revolutionary war its Valley Forge; the march of Napoleon's grand army into Russia after all the rest of continental Europe had been forced to bow to the might of the conqueror, preceded Elba and the return from Elba of Napoleon, the response of the French to the emperor's call to arms which placed at the disposal of that military genius a saw of steel which, he believed, no earthly power could break through, was but the prelude to Waterloo.

Civilization and freedom, justice and humanity cannot fail in this struggle else the history of the world will be reversed.

Hold fast to the ideals and to the faith in right. An all-wise Providence is even now shaping the end.

May Started Things

May brought summer weather here, in quality and quantity during the last few days of the month which will make June, usually the month of hot, humid, growing weather—hot days and hotter nights—for the young corn to get its good start, turn the heat valves wide open to hold the record.

The last two weeks of May sent splendid weather for all the crops save possibly the wheat. Corn rarely, if ever, got away to a better start than May of this year furnished.

Local rains, although large sections of Fayette county have been missed; have been a blessing to man and crops.

May has acted well her part in the great work of producing foodstuffs. The month of flowers has given everything a grand start toward the harvest time and if June, July and August maintain the standard set by May we need have no fear of the crops.

Thus far nature has been, apparently, working with us on our side of the great struggle.

The world needs every month that comes along now between this time and harvest to be just as good in working at crop production as May has been. May started things and it's up to the other months now to do their part.

Poetry For Today

IT'S KIND

Mary, Mary quite contrary,
 How does your garden grow?
 Have you lilies fair and roses rare,
 And sweetpeas in a row?
 Maiden, maiden, with hoe laden,
 Have you violets sweet?
 Does the green-golden grass bend as you pass
 On the lawns to kiss your feet?

"I beg your pardon, not such a garden
 In these times do I tend;
 No flowers you'll find for my care to mind,
 Not such my work I lend.
 The crop I am raising you will be praising,
 Though not like flowers sweet,
 For mere perfume there is no room;
 I'm raising stuff to eat.

"My lily spaces are onion places;
 My roses yield to beans;
 Peas full of meat rout those just sweet,
 My violets turn to greens;
 Big round potatoes and red tomatoes,
 And corn in long, green rows,
 Are now the blooms that my yard assumes.
 And that's how my garden grows."
 —Baltimore American.

IS A SUCCESS

Washington, D. C., June 1.—A fireproof airplane is the latest addition to the American aerial program. These planes will be constructed of nonflammable materials, the wings, struts, fuselage, etc., being made of an aluminum alloy steel, both light and strong. The gasoline tanks will be specially protected to prevent possible puncture by inflammable bullets. Flights already have been made with the first models of these planes, in which the wings are made of aluminum-steel. Work is now progressing on 10 more in which the entire fuselage is to be of the new material. After tests to show whether any further changes or modifications in designs are necessary to insure best results from the use of the new materials, these planes will be produced in large number.

McAdoo Demands Retraction.
 Washington, June 1.—Secretary McAdoo has called upon Representative Kitchin of North Carolina, Democratic floor leader in the house, to retract his assertion in a recent speech that a publishers' lobby working for repeal of the zone system of increased postage rates influenced the decision of the administration to insist upon revenue legislation at this session of congress. McAdoo says he was never approached by any publishers' lobby.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

Do you ever wish you could get back the time and money you have spent in trying to get something for nothing? It's human nature and has been ever since the world began to try for this same old "something for nothing." That's why bunco men and wire tappers have it so easy—until the police get them. A broker the other day took the trouble to figure out that eighty percent of the people who GAMBLE in stocks lose their entire bank roll eventually. But there is one thing on which "you can't lose" and that is the U. S. War Savings Stamps and Liberty Bonds. They are better than money in your pocket because they are working for you all the time making more money. Get all you can of them and start on the road to independence. H.C.

REVIEW OF HUN DRIVE

London, June 1.—Concerning the military situation in France, the British general staff made the following statement:

"The situation is a very anxious one, not only because the Germans have made such rapid progress—an advance of 26 miles in four days—but also because they still have such large reserves available to be thrown into the battle at any point.

"Our transport of reserves has worked very well and there is reason to hope that the Germans will not make any further progress, although the situation must remain anxious as long as they have plenty of reserves. The immediate future depends on what course the enemy takes. The crown prince has used up virtually all his own reserves and some from the army groups to the eastward, but the great bulk of the German reserves are to the north. It remains to be seen whether the enemy will use them to develop his success toward Paris or pursue his original intention in striking toward Amiens with a view of cutting the allied armies in two.

"The attack during the past week has not been so serious as other attacks at other points in the allied line, because we have more room for maneuver and can better afford to fall back. Another thing that must always be considered is that the Germans are rapidly using up their effectives. Thus far they have employed probably 45 divisions in the present attack.

"The question has been much discussed in the last few days whether this German attack was a surprise to the allies. It can not be called a complete surprise, because of the fact that enemy concentrations in the Laon area was known, but until a day or two before the battle we had no indication that an attack on a big scale was intended. The Germans deserve full credit for maintaining secrecy of their plans. The main masses of men were brought up to the actual front lines only on the night before the attack, which was preceded by only two hours of bombardment for the purpose of cutting wire entanglements. The Germans are not making the same use of artillery as heretofore. They are using trench mortars in large numbers for wire cutting."

Wood Alcohol Saves Grain.

Washington, June 1.—Wood alcohol instead of grain alcohol is a great conservation step the war department is undertaking. Alcohol is one of the principal constituents of modern gunpowder. Millions of gallons are used. When the government's giant new powder plants are completed probably twice as much again can be had.

AUSTRIANS WILL STRIKE

By Associated Press Dispatch, Italian Army Headquarters, May 31.—It is considered a question of only a short time when the Austrian offensive, long heralded by the meeting of the German and Austrian emperors will break violently.

This is further indicated by local actions on both extremities of this front.

WOMAN TRAITOR GOES TO PRISON

By Associated Press Dispatch, Kansas City, Mo., June 1.—Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes, of New York to-day was sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the Missouri state prison on each of three counts, charging her with violation of the espionage act. A motion for a new trial was denied.

DISLOYAL TEACHERS WILL BE DISCHARGED

By Associated Press Dispatch, Columbus, O., June 1.—In an effort to stamp out German propaganda through German language teaching in the public schools, steps have been taken by Cleveland public school officials to rid the school system of any teachers who may have pro-German leanings and to awaken other communities to the "great need for universal military training in the United States."

Every Cleveland teacher will be asked to sign a pledge not only to uphold America but to give information concerning any teacher who is not keeping the pledge in act and spirit. Next fall there will be no German classes. Last fall the beginners German classes were discontinued, and the supervisors of German in the high schools was abolished.

ALEXANDER KERENSKY

Alexander Kerensky, the former Russian revolutionary Premier, is expected to arrive at an Atlantic port of this country within a few days, according to representatives of the Bolsheviks here. They believed Kerensky is coming in the interest of some counter revolutionary movement in Russia and to start a campaign against American recognition of the Bolsheviks.

Social and Personal

Society's curtain lifted upon a brilliant scene Friday night, in the Commencement Dance given under the auspices of the Chi Delta Chi girls at the K. of P. Castle.

It was a beautiful ball—a dance of the prettiest of evening gowns of youth and gayety—the first formal dance of the season and formed a fascinating picture, framed by the flags and flowers which embellished the ball room.

The dance brought together an unusual number of young society people from other towns and the usual khaki was in evidence.

The grand march was led by two Delta Chi Presidents, Miss Helen Baker, of the class of 1918, of this city, and Miss Norma Jean Erdman of Chillicothe, and their escorts, Mr. Willis Willis and Mr. William Morrison, of Chillicothe.

A fascinating innovation was a beautiful favor dance—its trophies of caps, fans and horns merrily received.

Mrs. D. H. C. Bowen and Mrs. Fuller Hess chaperoned and assisted in the favor dance.

A quartet of musicians, Misses Briggs and Whelpley, Messrs. Hagerly and Miller played the popular dance music with the rhythm and "pop" which is giving them a wide reputation.

Refreshing punch was served all evening.

The proceeds will go to the Red Cross, the charming young girls of the Chi Delta Chi having given most generously of their time and labor to Red Cross work.

Among the out of town guests who attended were: Misses Norma Jean Erdman, Clarissa McConnell, Margaret Carville, Chillicothe; Erna Hoyd, Katherine Williams, Dorothy Doster, Grace Ashling, Greenfield; Edna Hawisher of Springfield, Margaret Woodhouse, Celestine Sharp, Prudence Moon, Louise Rowlen, Virginia Smith, Constance Williams, Doris Meech, Mary Rowlen and Mildred Gau, London. Messrs. Pierre Jones, Oliver Mitchell, Glenn Woolley, Moses Moon, David Graham, London; Robert Shaw, Mechanicsburg; William Chance, Joseph Vanmeter and Harry Smith, South Charleston; Kenneth Yaple, William Morrison, Oren Webb, Earl Barnhardt and Walter Wilson Chillicothe; Ted Harps, John Waddell, John Maines, and Robert Wolfe, Greenfield; Paul Miller, Paulding; and Mr. Short, Circleville.

Honoring the eight graduates, Misses Lulu Moore, Janice Wilson, Janie Jacobs and Ala Zimmerman, Charles Davis, Leonard Williams, Marion Wilson and Alfred Milburn.

Quick Breads.

Rye, barley, cornmeal, buckwheat and in short, any of the cereals may be used in varying proportions for quick breads. Not so for yeast bread. It must be understood then, that as the supply of wheat flour, rye and barley decrease for home consumption, a greater use must be made of quick breads.

In the directions which follow, sweet milk and baking powder are specified for the reason that these are easy to handle. However, the use of sour milk with soda (1 cup sour milk, 3-4 teaspoon soda) is recommended.

Biscuit.

2 c flour; 3-4 to 7-8 c milk and water (equal parts); 2 T fat; 1 t salt; 4 t baking powder.
Sift flour, baking powder, and salt. Work fat well into flour. Gradually add the liquid, mixing with knife to a very soft dough, just stiff enough to roll. Turn on a slightly floured board, roll to 1-2 inch in thickness. Cut with small cutter and place on pan 1-2 inch apart. Bake in hot oven 12 to 15 minutes.

Dropped Biscuits.

Use recipe for baking powder biscuits, with the addition of more milk than the mixture may be dropped from a spoon without spreading. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased pan 1 inch apart. Bake in hot oven.

Graham Biscuit.

1 1-2 c graham flour; 1 1-2 c white flour; 1 1-2 t salt; 1 c liquid; 3 T fat; 4 t baking powder.
Proceed as for wheat flour biscuit. If desired, the proportion of graham flour to white flour may be increased.

Rye Biscuit.

Use recipe for wheat flour biscuit.

substituting 1 cup rye flour for 1 cup wheat flour.

Barley Biscuit.

Use recipe for wheat flour biscuit, substituting 1 cup barley flour for 1 cup wheat flour.

Buckwheat Biscuit.

Use recipe for wheat flour biscuit, substituting 1 cup buckwheat flour for an equal amount of wheat flour.

NEW METHODS OF PRODUCING BEEF GIVEN BY LOCAL MEN

James T. Perrill and Howard and Roy Hagler Are Quoted in a Lengthy Article in Country Gentleman on Modern Way of Beef Making—"Style" Changes

Three prominent Fayette County stockraisers and farmers, James T. Perrill, Howard and Roy Hagler, are quoted in an interesting article on "New Fashions in Beef Making" by Forrest Crissey, in the last issue of "The Country Gentleman."

The article is accompanied by a picture showing Messrs. Perrill, Howard Hagler and Jesse Hagler, son of Mr. Roy Hagler, in the Hagler Calf Pen.

The writer claims that Ohio's fashions in cattle feeding have changed almost as much in the past few years as have her styles in clothes, carriages or farm architecture.

"For almost half century Central Ohio has been famous as the finishing ground of the choicest Christmas beef served on the tables of aristocratic England. The pride of the pioneer Ohio feeder was in his ability to put the last possible pound of fat inside the sleek skin of the mature and sedentary steers until that lordly creature looked like a huge Christmas pudding plumped and swollen almost to the bursting point. This was the original Ohio standard of high art in cattle feeding, and it has held for two or three generations."

Following a discussion on past methods as they compare with new ones the writer says:

"Probably one of the best all-calf feeders in Ohio is Roy Hagler. If that honor does not belong to him it might easily pass to his brother Howard. They both confess that they like the short-course feeding a lot better than growing heavy cattle of the Christmas-beef type, and consider it a safer line of effort. One of them declares that feeding calves is like driving an automobile, in that a stop and a start again means money out of the pocket—a loss of momentum and a consequent increased cost in recovering that momentum.

"My experience," says Howard Hagler, "in calf feeding as compared with fattening mature cattle, makes me a calf enthusiast. For one thing, I can feed calves, sell them at the same pound price which I paid for them, and still make a little profit. It takes good feeding to make a steer put on sixty to seventy pounds a month, while a calf eating the same ratio of feed to his weight will gain forty to fifty pounds."

Any farmer who was able to make even a small acreage of corn average ninety bushels to the acre in the season of 1917 is entitled to talk in open meeting and tell all about it. This is what James T. Perrill, of Bloomingburg, Ohio, accomplished. His standing as a feeder is scarcely second to that of any farmer in Fayette County.

"There is one essential to successful feeding," declares Mr. Perrill, "on which we are nearly all short, and that is silo capacity. There is small use trying to make money in cattle feeding without plenty of silage. It's the key to profitable cattle feeding."

"While I still feed some heavy cattle," Mr. Perrill went on, "I have put the weight of my effort lately on yearlings—and with mighty good results too. Then, too, I've been raising a few pure-bred Shorthorn calves myself, fattening those not suitable for breeding stock. This has given me a chance to see how wonderfully the calf responds to feed. There is no doubt in my mind that the man who raises his own calves is playing the best hand. The leading cattlemen round here, have all come to that conclusion."

"The farmer round here who isn't pulling hard for increased production is a rare specimen. As a rule they are satisfied with the influence of the Food Administration on the prices of wheat, hogs and other crops and products. There are hundreds of farmers in this general section who would really be satisfied if they could come out even at the end of the war and be able to look back upon a record of a twenty-five per cent increase in their production as their bit in beating the Hun.

"If my farm doesn't produce a third more hogs than it did in 1917 it will not be because I have failed to breed the sows necessary for that increase. I aim to make my increase of production this year at least twenty-five per cent above normal and thirty-three and a third per cent if possible. My plowing and planting and breeding are on that basis."

FORCE TOO SMALL FOR COUNTER WORK

Washington, June 1.—Field Marshal Foch has insufficient men for a great counter drive, although he can operate to upset seriously the German advance, army officers here believe. So critical has the problem of reserves become that the chief of the allied armies can hope only to bring the enemy drive to a full halt. Information received by army officers here shows that the French line was stripped of troops to a dangerous extent in the quiet sector in order to bolster up the Flanders and Picardy fronts at the crisis of the March fighting. In many sectors of the French line the average strength left was one man per yard in the entire front line system, three trenches deep. Before the fighting began in Picardy in March, the Germans had 186 divisions in the west. The number was increased to 210 and now is believed to be near 230 divisions. The allies have been unable to meet this increase in strength, despite the flow of American troops.

BOY IS RECOVERING FROM BAD INJURIES

Pearl Self, residing on John Street, is recovering from severe injuries sustained one night this week when a rig containing himself and five others was struck by an automobile from Williamsport.

The accident occurred on Washington avenue at the intersection of John street and the rig was badly damaged.

The injured lad was taken to the office of a physician where it was found that one elbow had been broken and dislocated.

GREEKS ADVANCE

London, June 1.—More than 1,500 German and Bulgarian prisoners, including 33 officers, and a quantity of war materials, have been captured by Greek troops on the Macedonian front, according to an official communication received from Saloniki. "Greek troops, supported by French artillery, have captured the strong enemy positions of Strika Di Legen, on the Struma front, on a width of 12 kilometers and to a depth of two kilometers. More than 1,500 Bulgarian and German prisoners were taken, including 33 officers. A large quantity of material also was captured," the statement says.

MILK COST HITS THE SWISS PEOPLE

(Associated Press Correspondence) Berne, May 25.—Milk at seven cents a quart is so dear in Switzerland that the country has been talking about little else for months past, and a general strike is threatened if any increase is attempted.

Since last summer the state has been paying the cost of the last increase. Now the farmers insist on a further increase to about 9 cents a quart, and it is doubtful whether the State treasury can afford the expense. The Socialists say they will call a general strike if the price to consumers is raised. The milk producers say they will stop all supplies unless they are allowed to charge more.

LABOR EXCHANGE WILL AID MEN IN NEEDLESS WORK

Employment Office Is Assisting Men Employed in Non-essential Work—Asked to Report to Labor Exchange at Once.

The Employment offices maintained by the State has been asked to assist men who are in the various classes of the draft who desire to leave non-essential work and take up essential work rather than be inducted into the military service, and in a statement issued today it is requested that application be made as speedily as possible.

The statement issued by the Fayette-Clinton-Pickaway Employment Bureau follows:

The Employment Offices have been requested to offer their services to young men between the ages of 21 and 31 inclusive, who are affected by General Crowder's order of effectual employment. The order stated that all draftable men who have registered previously or who will register on June 5, must secure employment in an industry other than those not considered essential by the Provost Marshall General's order. The employment services is given to understand that this order requires all men engaged as store clerks, hotel employees, etc., shall be called into service after July 1, if different employment along essential lines is not secured.

To avoid inconvenience and hardship to both employers and employees, this change should be made at the earliest possible moment as waiting until the last moment will mean a serious industrial difficulty. Both employers of such men and the men themselves are urged to report at the Employment Office at the Court House at once, so that the office will be able to use some time and exercise its best judgment in readjusting these men. Any one expecting a revision of this order will make a serious mistake by waiting as the Department of Labor is given to understand that the order will be carried out as originally stated.

The list of non-essential industries follows: Professional athletes, gambler, race track and bucket shop attendants, fortune tellers, waiters, bar tenders, theatre ushers and attendants, passenger elevator operators, attendants of clubs and hotels, domestic, store clerks.

JUST LEARNED THAT THE U. S. IS AT WAR

By Associated Press Dispatch. Roundup, Montana, May 31.—There is one citizen in Montana who recently learned that the United States is at war. The man is Charles B. Smith. He lives on a cattle ranch in the Snowy Mountain region and often, for weeks, he is isolated from civilization.

Recently two men, looking for stray cattle, reached Smith's land. The trio began to talk about various happenings. Then one of the strangers said something about "the war."

"The who?" asked Smith.

"Why, the war," replied one of the strangers.

"What war?" asked Smith.

"Quit your kidding," was the curt reply.

Smith persisted and when he learned the details he, in turn, thought his guests were kidding. The doubt remained in Smith's mind until he came to Willow Creek recently and learned the recent history of his country.

TRANSPORT TORPEDOED

Washington, June 1.—Loss of the homeward bound American transport President Lincoln was reported by Vice Admiral Sims. The message was brief, merely stating that the vessel was torpedoed and went down an hour later. It made no mention of casualties.

As the attack occurred by daylight and the ship remained afloat for an hour, war officials felt certain the casualty list would be small and probably limited to a few men killed or injured by the explosion.

The President Lincoln was a big former passenger liner of the Hamburg-American line. She was one of the German ships taken over by the United States at the declaration of war.

TO PAY BY WEIGHT

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, June 1.—Patrons of an airplane passenger and mail service to be established in the Caribbean Sea after the war will be required to pay fare on a basis of weight.

The project, which is said to have the sanction of the British government and the backing of London capitalists, provides for the transportation of passengers, mail and light freight between Key West, Fla., and the island of Trinidad, off the northeast coast of South America.

Intermediate landing depots would be established at Barbados, St. Kitts, Porto Rico, Jamaica and Cuba. Hydroplanes will be used for the trip which, it is estimated, would take five days.

CHAUTAUQUA WILL BE UP TO USUAL HIGH STANDARD

List of Talent Includes Men and Women of World-wide Fame, and Musicians of International Reputation—Will Begin July 1.

Mr. O. G. Hershey, representing the Coit Alber Chautauqua Company of Cleveland, was here Friday meeting with the guarantors of the Washington Chautauqua and placing the advance advertising of the big patriotic and educational event to be held here for the seven days beginning July 1.

Mr. Hershey is enthusiastic over the fine program which the Chautauqua will bring this year. "We call it the Win-the-War Chautauqua," he says, "because we believe it will be of inestimable value to every patriotic endeavor. The Chautauqua is proud of the fact that it has been lifted out of the ranks of non-essential things by no less a personage than President Wilson himself, who has gone on record as saying:

"The work which the Chautauqua is doing has not lost importance because of the war, but rather has gained new opportunities for service. Let me express the hope that you will let no discouragement weaken your activities, and that the people will not fail in their support of a patriotic institution which may be said to be an integral part of the national defense."

"We have prepared a program," says Mr. Hershey which will measure up to this fine challenge to our faith and loyalty. In every day's discussions and entertainment there will be something to give impetus to war work. Morale is as much needed as men and munitions, and the Chautauqua has a vital place in building the will-to-win."

Among the lecturers on the program are Irvin S. Cobb, who has been reporting the war on the western front for the Saturday Evening Post, and who will bring late first-hand information from the scene of hostilities; Private Peat, who has been through trench life and knows how to tell about it; Col. George W. Bain who will interpret the war and the new responsibilities it will bring to the younger generation; Dr. Henry A. Adrian, the friend and confidante of Luther Burbank, who will tell of "New Ways of Feeding the World," and others equally prominent.

Music and entertainment embraces the famous Ben Greet Players, the Welsh Glee Quartet, the Crawford Adams Company, the Tschakowsky Quartet, the Castle Court Singers, Alice Louise Shrode, Ralph Dunbar's Royal Dragoons and others.

Mr. W. H. Brown is the secretary of the organization having the Washington Chautauqua in charge.
